ALLIES CAPTURE CAPUA ON ROAD TO ROME

German Decision To Stand And Fight For Capital

LONDON, October 8.

The Algiers (United Nations) radio reports that the Allies have captured Capua.

An American Algiers broadcast reported the capture by the British of Grazzanise, Cancello Arnone ahd Castel Volturno.

NAZIS WILL FIGHT FOR ROME

The capture of Capua is an important success which should give the Allies control of the right bank of the Volturno river as far as the sea.

The German radio said: "German troops in the southern Appenines on the central Italian front are slowly withdrawing to the north-west after fighting defensive actions."

Marshal Kesselring has decided to stand and fight for Rome. He has halted his 250-mile retreat and his western army is now entrenched in strength on the north bank of Volturno river. Gun positions have been set up on heights commanding roads and fields along which the Fifth army is advancing.

More German troops are streaming south through the Brenner Pass.

IMPORTANCE OF CAPUA

General Mark Clark's Fifth Army is now only 81 miles from Rome with the bridgehead across the Volturno river established. This is indicated by the announcement in today's Allied Headquarter's 'communique' of the capture of Capua, an important town north of the river barrier on the main inland Naples-Rome road. Capua is 19 miles north of Naples. Five miles north of Capua is the junction of two important roads—the main coastal road to Rome and another inland road which also leads to the Capital. Besides being on the main railway line to Rome, Capua is only a few miles from a branch line junction to the port of Gatta.

ENEMY ATTACKS REPULSED

The Eighth Army, fighting an important battle along the Biferno river that runs into the Adriatic Tormel, have, says the 'communique', improved their position and beaten off several enemy tank and infantry counter-attacks. Earlier the German-controlled Vichy Radio had announced that the British forces in this sector reinforced by an armoured division and two infantry divisions had begun a powerful attack all along the front, while warships off shore were selling German positions.

BRILLIANT SUCCESS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA:—Striding through thick, sticky mud, their faces stung with blinding rain and beating back strong enemy opposition, the Fifth Army have scored their most brilliant success yet since the occupation of Naples by the capture of Capua cables the Reuter's Special Correspondent at Allied Headquarters.

Capua is regarded as one of the Germans' key defence points in this sector.

Severe German resistance had to be swept aside in a series of minor engagements to achieve this notable advance. The Germans, apart from the mountains, only have river Garfiano, 17 miles to the north of Volturno on which to form a line before Rome.

The German Panzer division hurriedly switched to the east-coast, is the 16th Division which bore the brunt of the initial fighting at Salerno. So severe a mauling did it get that it has only been able to muster thirty tanks against the Eighth Army. Others of the six German divisions engaged all along the front are the Herman Goering Panzer Division, the 29th Panzer Grenadier Division, the 26th Panzer Division and the 15th Panzer Grenadier Division.

The tactical air force now faces a check from the weather at any moment. Autumn weather with sudden storms and menacing cloud formations are likely from now on and will limit their activity in the immediate battle areas.

The sending of an Allied Military Mission to the Badoglio Government in Italy is the most important move yet taken to clarify the status of liberated Italy. The regularization of relations with Marshal Badoglio raises the possibility that his Government will be accorded the status of co-belligerency. Italian army units have been fighting beside Allied troops at some points of the front. These units have established what can be regarded as 'de facto' co-belligerency.—Reuter.

Enemy Convoy Destroyed

CAIRO, Oct. 8.

To-day's Middle East Joint War 'communique' says: "Allied naval light forces operating in the Aegean on the morning of October 7 destroyed an enemy convoy with its escort. An attack by enemy forces against the island of Symi on October 7 was repelled with heavy casualties to the enemy. Prisoners were taken."—Reuter.

Vatican Denies It

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.

The Vatican radio has broadcast a statement appearing in Friday's "Osservatore Romano" denying reports that Archbishop Spellman after his visit to the Pope had been instrumental in arranging the Italian armistice. The Newspaper added: "After having made the necessary enquiries we are in a position to state that this representation is devoid of any foundation.—Reuter.

Meeting With Iraq Regent

BAGHDAD, Oct. 8: It is now revealed that Lord Louis Mountbatten broke his journey to India in Baghdad for a special visit to the Iraq Regent, Emir Abdul Illah. The British Ambassador escorted Lord Louis to Qaser-al-Zihour, where he saw the Regent, who had to fly specially from North Iraq to meet his distinguished visitor.—Reuter.

Allies Attack Wake Island

AUSTRALIAN ADVANCE IN NEW GUINEA

TOKYO, Oct. 8.

A Japanese official 'communique' to-day says "on Wednesday and Thursday an enemy force attacked Otorishima (Wake Island) carrying out aerial and naval bombardments."

LONDON, Oct. 8: To-day's south-west Pacific Communique says: Vila and the southern part of the Island have apparently already been abandoned by troops moving to the northern shores. An attempt at evacuating by barges and a small warship had been progressing for the past several nights. Many barges have been sunk with great loss of en life and some Japanese troops undoubtedly escaped to safety. The enemy's struggle to evacuate continues"

SYDNEY: Australian troops in New Guinea have swept 40 miles up the Markham and Ramu valleys in four days, the longest unimpeded march by a major force in this campaign, according a despatch from New Guinea. Occupation of Markham valley and effective control of Ramu valley is now complete. Vitally strategic territory which had been held by the enemy for nearly two years is now in Allied hands, said the despatch which added that although the Japanese have had a clear view of the moment of Allied troops from their observation posts along the mountain ranges flanking both sides of the valley.—Reuter.

AIR ATTACKS ON BREMEN AND STUTTGART

LONDON, Oct. 8.

It is announced that the United States Eigth Airforce Flying Fortresses supported by Thunderbolts attacked targets in Bremen to-day.

The German Radio announces that Stuttgart was the target of last night's R.A.F. raid.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—It is officially estimated that only 30 tons of bombs were dropped on the London area last night and not more than 15 bombers took part in the attack.

RAID ON LONDON

The official 'communique' on the raids on East Anglia and South-east England last night says that three of the attacking planes were destroyed.—Reuter.

In China

JAPS FORCED TO RETREAT

CHUNGKING, Oct. 7

From Reuter's special correspondent:

The Chinese have seized the initiative in the seven day old battle of the Shanghai-Nanking-Hangchow triangle. They have launched a general counter-attack and forced the Japanese to retire from a number of newly captured points.

To-night's 'communique' says the Chinese are at present attacking a number of main towns lying in the area between Wuhu on the Yangtse and Hangchow 85 miles south-west of Shanghai.—Reuter.

PLANNING OFFENSIVE AGAINST JAPAN

NEW DELHI, Oct. 8.

The largest gathering ever seen in India of British and American Generals, Admirals and Airchiefs is at present in Delhi to help Lord Louis Mountbatten in planning the Allied offensive against Japan.

Those engaged in this task, it is pointed out, have the benefit not only of the data systematically gathered during the last 14 months' virtually non-stop British and American air attacks on occupied Burma but also of the lessons learnt by the Wingate expedition early this year.

Lieut.-General Stilwell and Lieut.-General Somervell arrived in Delhi this afternoon.—A.P.

U. S. Planes Bomb Burma Targets

NEW DELHI:—B-25 medium bombers of the Tenth U.S. Air Force attacked the railway yards at Singaingmyo 20 miles south of Mandalay, on October 7.

On October 6, medium bombers successfully attacked Monywa.

Other formations pounded Kalewa in north Central Burma on the Upper Chindwin.—A.P.

ORISSA EX-PREMIER CHARGED WITH CORRUPT PRACTICE?

CUTTACK, Oct. 8

Mr. Biswanath Das, ex-Premier and Leader of the Orissa Assembly Congress Party, has been disqualified for being chosen as and for being member of the Orissa Legislative Assembly for a period of six years from August 28, 1943, according to a notification published to-day which states that he incurred expenditure in excess of the maximum limit laid down by the Orissa Election Manual and is thereby held to have been guilty of corrupt practice.

Another notification states: "Biswanath Das has become disqualified for voting at any election to the Orissa Legislative Assembly for a period of six weeks."

Mr. Das is now under detention under the Defence of India Rules.—A.P.

HAND OVER HITLER AND FREE OCCUPIED EUROPE

MOSCOW SPURNS BERLIN PEACE OFFER: GERMAN EFFORTS TO CONTACT WESTERN POWERS

STOCKHOLM, October 8.

Under banner headlines to-day the "Social Demokraten" reports that a German peace proposal based on complete evacuation of Russia has been rejected by Moscow who made counter-demands that Germany should evacuate all occupied countries and hand over Hitler.

FUTURE OF OCCUPIED COUNTRIES

What Eden Told Molotov

MOSCOW, Oct 8.

Russians' attitude towards the possibility of a Soviet-Czechoslovak agreement is discussed in a lengthy article published in the unofficial Soviet review "War and Working Class."

Asking why Dr. Benes did not visit Moscow this summer as expected, the article says that during M. Molotov's visit to London in June last year the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden, proposed that the Soviet Union and Britain should not conclude agreements or treaties on post-war questions with other States in Europe, the Governments of which are outside their own territories, without preliminary mutual consultation and agreement.

The Soviet Government, while agreeing in principle, asked for concrete proposals on the matter from the British Government. These were not forthcoming so that the matter was limited to preliminary exchanges of opinion and no agreement either written or verbal was reached.

The article says that the negotiations in London last year had in mind—not that both the Governments should abstain from concluding agreements in general—but that such instruments should not be concluded without mutual consultation and agreement. The article adds that these facts do not, however, rule out the possibility of agreements acceptable to both sides on the basis of the existing Anglo-Soviet Treaty.—Reuter.

The story, says the paper, was told "to a group of representative of different political parties in one of Germany's increasingly reluctant vassal States by a spokesman for military leadership."

The "Social Demokraten" report says: "The Germans are supposed to have proposed that armistice should be concluded and peace negotiations started after the Germans had withdrawn behind the line fixed in Ribbentrop's Russo-German Non-Aggression Pact of 1939."

The paper adds that the German proposals seem to have taken the ferm of an offer of mediation by the Japanese and it was after the Russian counter-proposals that Ribbentrop in his recent speech denied that Germany had tried to make a separate peace with the Soviet Union.

The report continues: "Well-informed Berlin circles say that since their peace feelers in the east have failed, German attempts to contact the Wesern Powers are now going on in Madrid and Lisbon".—Reuter

KEEP UP MORALE TO WIN WAR

Hitler's Appeal To Party Men

BERLIN, Oct. 8.

Adolf Hitler, addressing a Nazi Party meeting, said: "The war can never be lost if the German people do not lose their morale."

The German news agency says that Hitler was giving the party leaders a comprehensive survey of the developments of the war so far and of the present military and political situation at a meeting held on Wednesday.

Hitler said: "In this world historic struggle which, like all great historical struggles, produces its own sequence of climaxes and tensions not only power of arms but also willpower and perseverance of those who bear them are of decisive importance for victory. Arms alone mean nothing unless they are back up by human will. Whatever the war situation may be, determination and unswerving perseverance in pursuit of our aims must always remain the same."

Continuing Hitler said: "If the German people preserve this morale which they have shown on battlefields and at home, the war can never be lost, but must and will bring a great German victory. We shall strike everywhere and never tire until our aim is reached. Take home in your hearts the unshakeable faith that if your determination does not falter, this war will end with a Great German victory."

Speeches were also made by Herr Albert Speer, Field Marshal Milch, Admiral Doenitz, Herr Schepmann, Chief of Staff of Brown Shirts Dr. Ley and Herr Himmler.

After the meeting, Reich leaders and Gauleiters accepted an invitation from Hitler to visit his Headquarters yesterday.

The Gestapo Chief, Herr Himmler, said: "Defeatism is non-existent among the German people. Isolated cases of this kind will be eradicated without mercy. Anybody who does the enemy's job and stabs the German people in the back during its most difficult struggle for existence by spreading defeatism and thus endangering the life of all, must die and pay for his deeds as a warning to others.

Continuing Herr Himmler said: "All enemy attempts to overthrow us by treason from within are bound to fail. The enemy may be assured of this and the German people need not worry on that score."—Reuter.

Lord Meston Dead

LONDON, Oct. 7.

The President of the Liberal Party Organisation, Lord Meston died to-day, aged 78.

Lord Meston entered the Indian Civil Service in 1885 and was Financial Secretary to the United Provinces Government from 1899-1903; Adviser to the Governments of Cape Colony and Transvaal on civil service reform from 1904-6; Secretary to Finance Department, Government of India, from 1906-12. He was appointed Lieutenant Governor of the United Provinces in 1912 and served in that capacity till 1818. It was during his regime thata the Cawnpore mosque incident agitated the whole of Muslim India. He was a representataive of India on the Imperial War Cabinet and Conference in 1917. He became Finance Member of the Governor-General's Council in 1919 and retired in the same year.

WAVELL, AMERY'S CHOICE

Hennen Swaffer writes in the "Daily Herald":

I feel that Lord Wavell's task at Delhi might become at least a little less difficult if a special record of what the 4th Division did were published in India before his arrival.

Lord Wavell, by the way, is still busy at the India Office—not only choosing his staff and trying to master the intricate problems facing him. By far the most approachable Viceroy-Designate ever known, he listens patiently to all shades of opinion expressed by callers.

I heard the other day that it was Mr. L. S. Amery who chose him for the job. Anyway, if Lord Wavell's liberal views impress India as well as his obvious sincerity, since his appointment has impressed every audience that has heard him speak, we may hope for more conciliation on the part of the Viceregal Lodge and much greater tolerance.

CRIPPS WAY TO WIN PEACE

Advocates Four-Power Pact Between Britain, America, Russia And China

LONDON, Oct. 8.

A durable agreement between the British Commonwealth, the United States, Russia and China pledging themselves to common action "to maintain world peace and to remove the underlying causes of war was advocated by Sir Stafford Cripps, Minister of Aircraft Production, in a public speech to-day. This, declared Sir Stafford Cripps, must be the first and overriding aim in international post-war policy. Any break between these four countries would only be the first step towards the next war.

"Peace will depend on these four great powers agreeing on the absolute necessity of its maintenance and their willingness to devote their power to policing the world against aggression. If once they really make up their minds that there is not going to be another war, nothing that any other nation, however aggressive in spirit, might threaten would bring it about.

But if no such agreement is reached, then the best that can be hoped for is an uneasy and unsettling balance of power for a time with all international intrigues that accompany such a state of affairs," said Sir Stafford Cripps. Such an agreement did not exclude other countries from participation, nor did it mean any dictatorship by the four Great Powers, said Sir Stafford Cripps.

A broader base of internal arrangements and institutions would be required for world policing, economic co-operation and social development in which all countries must play their part. "We want international pool on national democracy. No international arrangement based on police measures alone can be lasting."

International organizations must be set up to introduce a measure of regulation into international economic life and neither selfish nationalism nor sectional interests of any privileged group or class must be allowed to stand in the way.

Urging that Britain herself must make reality of her democracy in home affairs, Sir Stafford Cripps added: "What we claim and assert internationally, we must apply in our own nation and Empire. We cannot have two standards—one for ourselves and another for other nations."—Reuter.

FOURTH TERM FOR ROOSEVELT

BUFFALO (New York State), Oct. 8.

The United Automobile Workers' Union, one of the most important Unions in the United States, to-day endorsed President Roosevelt for a fourth term in the White House. At the same time the Union, one of the largest attached to the Congress of Industrial Organisations, endorsed the re-election of Mr. Henry Wallace as Vice-President. The election are not until next year.—Reuter.

U. S. SENATE IN SECRET SESSIONS

Plea For Investigation Of U.S.O.W.I.'s Foreign Branch Activities

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.

The doors of the Senate Chamber were closed at a given signal yesterday when the highest legislative body in the United States went into secret session to hear reports from five of its members back from world tour. All officials were excluded with the exception of seven clerks, who were sworn to silence about the proceedings.

Discussion among other things was expected to deal with war and peace relations between the United States and Britain. A giant globe of the world, specially introduced for the occasion, stood between the Democratic and Republican benches. A large map of the world hung from the wall at one end of the chamber.

REVERSE LEND-LEASE DEMAND

The five Senators who turned world battlefields have issued a joint statement summarising their conclusion in which they state: "The need for a clear national policy is strikingly apparent. With such a policy should go American representation abroad within which our military, diplomatic and business personnel would work as a team with approriate international rank."

Appointing out that the United States has built airfields throughout the world, the statement continues: "The use of some of thes fields in future may be just as essential to our security as battleships or divisions. We have no post-war rights of access to these fields outside the Western Hemisphere at the present time. These rights of access are also indispensable to the vitally important growth of commercial aviation." The statement stresses the need for parity in international communications.

"Equality in cable and wireless communications would seem to be fitting subject for consideration and possible reverse Lend-Lease."

The secret session opened with a speech by Senator Russel of Georgia to a crowded chamber. The Speaker left his seat to stand beside the map of the world and referred to it from time to time. Senator Russel was expected to be followed by Senators' Lodge of Massachussetts, Brewster of Maine and Chandler of Kentucky. All observers are convinced that this is one of the most vital Senate sessions of the war and that it will have considerable influence on the Senate's future attitude to Foreign Affairs.

FOR U.S AVIATION RIGHTS

Senator Russell is understood to have urged action to be taken immediately to bargain for American aviation rights on landing fields built by the United States for war purposes abroad. He is also understood to have recommended that Britain should assume a greatear share of the burden of supplying oil to the Allied forces, that activities of the Foreign branch of the Officer of War Information be investigated and that relief and rehabilitation of occupied countries be under military rather than civilian control.

Eighty Senators were presented and discussions lasted four and a half hours. Several Senators indicated that they expected the debate to be continued in public tomorrow.—Reuter.

SOVIET STRIKES WEST TOWARDS LATVIA

Germans Hurl In Large Infantry Forces Supported By Tanks And Air Force

BERLIN, October 8.

To-day's German 'communique' reported bitter and heavy defensive fighting south of Velikie Luki.

"The Soviets, supported by battle planes tried to extend the breach established on the previous day."

Violent fighting is raging on practically all sectors on the west bank of the Dnieper say the latest despatches reaching Moscow. The Germans are hurling in large infantry forces supported by tanks and the air force. Upto two infantry regiments with ten to twenty tanks accompanied by gun carriers are taking part in counter-attacks. Fifteen to forty bombers are carrying out concentrated raids on Soviet troops. The Germans have brought up very heavy forces to defend the west bank and the approaches to the Dnieper in general.

Soviet troops after cutting the Kiev-Leningrad Railway at Nevel are today striking west towards Latvia. General Yeremenko's troops at the northern end of the German line in White Russia are driving on in a threat to roll up from the rear the rest of the German fortified belt from Vitebsk through Orsha to Mogilev.

For the second time in a few weeks Soviet troops are crumbling up another proposed German winterline—the first was on the Desna. Fierce battles are raging in key sectors along the whole front where the Red Army has been unleased for a new surge forward.—Reuter

It is gathered Mysore is to be represented at the Inter-University Swimming competitions scheduled to be held at Bombay on 13, 14 and 15 October, 1943. At Bombay Mr. V. Krishnamurthy, a student of the Engineering College will be Mysore's nominee.

NAZI 'COUP' FRUSTRATED

CAIRO, Oct. 8.

The radio reports that the Germans were repulsed with heavy losses in an attempt to land on the Italian Island of Symi a few miles off the Turkish coast.

Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Germans and prisoners were taken. Symi is forty miles south-east of Cos on which, according to the latest reports, fighting is still going on between Allied and German forces.—Reuter.

Germans In Athens

Reuter's special correspondent at Istanbul writes:—

Fresh forces of German tank and motorised units have arrived in Athens, according to reports reaching here. The German Command has now apparently completed its occupation of key points in southern Greece evacuated by the Italians. Explosions resulting from shelling or bombing were heard on the Turkish coast on Wednesday morning.—Reuter.

In Yugoslavia

News has reached Cairo that Yugoslav partisans have beaten back German attempts to land on islands lying off Zara on the Dalmatian coast and on Hvar south of Split. Almost all Slovenia railways linking Austria with Italy have been interrupted cutting off German troops in the Istrian Peninsula south of Trieste. Several other important lines including two to Triest have also been destroyed. The Germans are retaliating by bombing towns and villages every day and the casualties are mounting.—Reuter.

NAZI BOMBERS OVER ENGLAND

Over 8 Million French Read "Pimpernel" Papers

ALGIERS, Oct. 8

Over eight million French people are now reading underground newspapers published in France by resistance movements.

This is an official estimate given to-day by the Commissariat for the Interior of the Algiers Liberation Committee. There are now 70 of these "Pimpernel" papers appearing regularly and covering the whole country.—Reuter.

Arab Federation No Danger To World Peace

LONDON, Oct. 7.

Discussing an Arab Federation which he describes as "now a living reality in world politics", Syed Edries Ali Shah in an article in "Spectator" writes: "Will this Federation not perhaps become a danger to world peace? Have we not seen in Europe the result of one group of people consolidating itself into one state which then bared its fangs to the world? The answer is, no.

Intense economic nationalism backed by fierce drive of rapidly expanding industrialism—together with lack of deep religious sentimentality—these factors are causes of aggressiveness and not one such motive exists in the Arab mind.

Thus an Arab Union, friendly as Arabs are towards Britain, can only make for greater international peace and goodwill as well as economic betterment of 70 millions of people."—Reuter.

PAYMASTER ANNEXES WILLINGDON CUP

(From Our Own Correspondent)
POONA, Oct. 8.

The usual big gathering on the penultimate day at Poona could not achieve much gains as in the past weeks, but was not completely out of reckoning. The day's only cup event, the Willingdon Cup was annexed by Mr. Osman Chotani's PAY MASTER.

VANDYKE placed second in front of TURF KING while the best backed YAWAR after trailing off from the beginning placed a bad fourth.

The fact that Indian apprentices have advanced in the art was exhibited by Hanuman Singh who from a bad position squeezed through when only a couple of yards were left to traverse when steering NIRDOSH to perfection in the first division of Shiraz Plate. It was a spectacular finish. The young lad caught Marrs one of the most reliable jockeys napping on the post.

The Maharaja of Kashmir, his trainer and jockey broke the ice when winning on REPARTEE in the second division of the Dehu Plate.

Following are the results of the races for the Autumn Meeting. Second Day, Friday, (October 8th):

Two New Films Next Friday

"Prithvivallabh" Release At Three Theatres

By T. V. P.

Next Friday will be released two new pictures, "Prithvivallabh" produced by Minerva, starring Durga Khote and Sohrab Modi. It will be released at once at three theatres, viz., Excelsior, New West End and Central. It is expected to be a great spectacular and costume picture, a fitting successor of "Pukar" and "Sikandar."

The other film will be "Sawaal" of Gitanjali Pictures Mumtaz Shanti and Ullhas, the popular team of "Basant" will be starred in it. It will take the Lamington screen, popular "Panghat" surrendering the same in its favour. The picture is produced by Mr. Laxmidas Anand and directed by Mr. Niranjan.

Another new film to come a week later to succeed "Ankhki Sharm" at Capitol is "Prem Sangeet" of Shalimar. Neena of 'Ek Raat' fame is starred in it with appropriate support. Nitin Bose's 'Paraya Dhan" starring Lila Desai will also be released at some suitable theatre about the same time. "Poonji" also is expected to be released about the time.

WHAT ABOUT "HAMARI BAAT"

It was published last Saturday in this column that Bombay Talkies "Hamari Baat" would be released on Friday, October 8 at Imperial. It was based on the authoritative news sent by the Publicity Department of the Company. India Film Circuit whose picture 'Nadan' is running at Imperial in the 8th week have found cause for grievance against the Bombay Press for this reflected, they say, on their current picture. It may or may not be so on merits, but in any case the matter should be adjustable between India Film Circuit and the Bombay Talkies.

'RAMANUJ' AT NOVELTY

Combining as it does the devotional piety of 'Narsi Bhagat' the emotional fervour of 'Tulsidas' and the divine homeliness and simplicity of 'Tukaram' Debaki Bose's "Shree Ramanuj" at Novelty, relates a very inspiring story of a sage and philosopher who dedicated his life to the cult of a love and brotherhood.

DEBATE ON "SHAKUNTALA"

Though a month has passed, the rush of the crowds at New Swastik where "Shakuntala" is being shown, continues unabated. The long 'queues' is still the order of the day.

In a debate held last week, several leading Marathi literateur and Sanskrit scholars participated. They unanimously voted "Shakuntala" as a memorable masterpiece of motion picture art but all of them also opined that it would have been much better for Shantaram to have stuck to the original of Kalidas all through.

'SAVEIRA' AT KAMAL

Bombay Cinetone's "Saveira" which was released at Kamal Talkies last week is a lively, fast moving entertaining type of film. It narrates in quick tempo the story of a pick pocket who succumbed to temptation when hard pressed by hunger as contrasted with the story of a youth who resisted the temptation to commit crime in spite of hardships.

'RAMARAJYA' AT CALCUTTA

"Ramarajya" at Super where the rush of crowds is comparable with that of "Shakuntala" at Swastik has been released at Delhi and Calcutta also. It has received similar applause there. Dr. Shyamaprasad Mukherji after seeing the picture said: "India must be proud of such a wonderful production as "Ramarajya". I liked it immensely and wish all success to the "epic creation of Prakash."

"Najma" at Minerva, "Tansen" at Opera House are quite popular even now and 'Amanat' starring Husn Banu and Harish is in second week at Edward.

Biman Banerji and Chhaya Devi in "Ramanuj" at Novelty.

SHANKARACHARYA'S MESSAGE TO MILLIONS!

His Holiness SRI SHANKARACHARYA Dr. KURTKOTI, who inaugurated 'SHREE RAMANUJ' expressing his views on the picture declared:

"This picture based on the life of Shree Ramanuj, one of the greatest Acharyas in India who was not only a philosopher but the first and foremost ardent social reformer gives our generation a valuable message of divine love and service towards the downtrodden. Shree Ramanuj not only fought, with the orthodox element for the rights of the masses but struggled hard with his Guru for spreading widely the Maha-mantra of the world's salvation

It is really gratifying that Biman Banerji, Chhayadevi and other artistes have remarkably lived their roles. I am sure the picture will be a source of inspiration throughout the length and breadth of Bharatvarsh."

SAROJINI NAIDU'S CALL TO CITY MUNICIPAL VOTERS

Smt. Sarojini Naidu has sent the following special message to the Voters of Bombay from Hyderabad Deccan:—

Bombay has always been the stronghold of the Congress, and rarely have Congressmen sought the suffrage of its voters in vain.

Now, a special occasion has arisen, and a special duty devolves on all of you to prove anew your steadfast and unchallenged loyalty to the Congress ideals and programmes by re-electing with your unanimous votes the Congress candidates, who have been your faithful friends and servants for many years, but, who, to-day alas! are debarred from making any personal appeal to you for your support.

But, I am sure, that their very silence behind prison bars would convey to you a plea more eloquent and irresistible than words, and you will respond generously in token of your unwavering allegiance to the Congress and to our illustrious leader Mahatma Gandhi.

Sd. Sarojini Naidu,
Hyderabad Deccan,
6th Oct. 43.

JOSHI'S CABLE TO BRITISH LABOUR LEADERS

Release Of Indian Politicals, First Step Towards Pacification

BOMBAY, Oct. 8.

Mr. N. M. Joshi, M.L.A., General Secretary, All-India Trade Union Congress, has cabled to Sir Walter Citrine General Secretary, British Trades Union Congress, and Mr. J. S. Middleton, Secretary, British Labour Party, the following:—

"Please inform Joint India Committee that General Council, Indian Trade Union Congress urges that the immediate release of Mahatma Gandhi and other political prisoners is an essential step towards political pacification. I consider the insistence on prior expression of regret and formal withdrawal of the movement, now practically stopped, neither fair nor helpful."—A. P.

City Hindus Celebrate Vijaya Dashami

BOMBAY, Friday.

To-day the Hindus celebrated Dasara holiday with great eclat. The law courts, banks and commercial houses were closed and owing to a public holiday there was a large crowd at cinema theatres and other places of amusements.

Dasara is also known as Vijaya Dashami and is celebrated all over India. It takes the form of Ram Leela festival in Northern India, this being the day on which Rama vanquished and killed Ravana, the demon king of Ceylon.

A LABOUR IMPERIALIST

Mr. Herbert Morrison's exhibition of imperial patriotism before an audience of American journalists is not altogether unique for an eminent Labour-Socialist (!) leader of Britain. Mr. J. H. Thomas, to mention only one of many instances, celebrated his Cabinet Ministership with a hectoring warning to Egypt that she had better not "monkey" with the "Empire." These Labour leaders remind one of the zeal the conservative cause of the upper servants in the stately homes of England, the supericrity of butlers and "gentleman's gentlemen." This, perhaps is too cynical, but there can be no doubt of their being inspired by the enthusiasm of the new convert. They speak more loudly and stridently than their "principals." This explains Mr. Herbert Morrison who has of late been causing embarrassment to the Labour Party itself. The true British Imperialist, the traditional ruler of the Empire, is a clever strategist He gladly, deliberately allows the leaders of the lower classes the honour of imperial advocacy. And the Morriscns respond to the privilege with gusto. How completely Mr. Herbert Morrison has proved his loyalty to his principals and faithfulness to his brief is shown by the "straight" and "frank" talk he gave to America on behalf of British Imperialism. Americans are realists. If they have also a sense of humour they would have particularly noticed the fact that throughout his whole speech Mr. Herbert Morrison actually out-did the orators of the traditional governing class of Britain.

The arguments were literally Tory Imperialist but inflicted upon the audience with even more spirit and glaring officiousness. This man had the supreme audacity to invoke Wilsonian principles in regard to Malaya and other Colonies cleanly forgetting—did he expect others to do so, too?—that the first Wilsonian principle, that of self-determination, has been scandalously denied to the people of Malaya even in local affairs. He talked of disunity in Palestine, unashamedly repudiating history itself which, if anything, is the history of the deliberate creation in Palestine of a second people by Britain herself. He menticned India, in a spirit of injured righteousness, but did not mention, let alone other things, the simple truth that whatever internal differences, whatever the conflicting demands, neither Hindu nor Muslim wants the British to continue their rule over India, upon whatever excuses, for a single moment longer. He denies anv desire on the part of Britain to extend her "Empire", when the existence of the Empire is in open question on the basis of the very aims for which the war is being fought.

But then he defends the Empire. His arguments do justice to the Imperialist who has an economic and a social stake in the Empire but they involve the denunciation of his own leaders, who have, for the last thirty or forty years, been exposing the Empire for what it is, and they also involve denunciation of the very foundations of the Labour Party. He stands on grounds, hallowed by the Tories having used it so long, of economic and social backwardness, knowing how effectively and to what tremendous benefit to the world—particularly the United Nations—Russia has already dug it out. He insists a la Churchill, Stanley and the rest of the governing class, an exclusive administration of the Empire by Britain, knowing that it is fundamentally repugnant to internationalism and to the principles if honestly accepted, of the Labour Party. But he has an excuse for all this. Has not Mr. Herbert Morrison in this speech, referred contemptuously to the "idealism" of the Labour and Liberal Parties themselves even of thirty years ago? For such a man nothing is impossible. But Herbert Morrison is a symptom instructive for Americans, Russians and Chinese and challengingly significant for India and other peoples of the "Empire" of which he is so proud.

Support Congress

Thanks to the staunch support of the workers and voters of Wards 2, 6, 7 and 8 and the Indian Merchants' Chamber, the Congress candidates at the forthcoming municipal elections in these constituencies have been returned unopposed. But there is a contest in Ward 5, where Mr. Y. J. Meherali is the Congress candidate and in Ward 9 where Congress is represented by Mr. Nagindas T. Master and Mr. S. K. Patil. Many voters in these wards have already promised their full support to the Congress candidates but a few are reported to have asked if it would not have been better if Congress had put up temporary representatives, pending the release of the representatives in jail. The question can be, and needs to be, convincingly answered. If the candidates in jail had offered civil disobedience and thus courted jail, it would have been quite proper for the Congress Party to put up fresh candidates. But in the present case they have been jailed without any trial and have been robbed of their seats in the municipality. If this is regarded as a normal thing and the voters, too, join the Government in robbing them of their seats, it will be a dangerous encouragement to Government to put out of action inconvenient persons at any critical time without even the semblance of a trial. This must not be allowed.

Secondly, Government have not only jailed Congress leaders and others without a trial but have also levelled grave charges against them, without giving them the slightest chance to repudiate them. The whole procedure is calculated, if not designed, to discredit them in the minds of the public. The voters should refuse to help Government in this game but should rather demonstrate clearly that they continue to have full confidence in the Congress and its leaders. Every educated voter should grasp this point of principle and should explain it to others and see that the Congress candidates are returned with huge majorities.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

Mockery Of Justice

Mr. Ravishankar Dayashankar Pathak, a journalist from Muttra, who was charged before Mr. Justice Rajadhyaksha and a common jury at the Criminal Sessions of the Bombay High Court, with having explosive substances in his possession or control, was acquitted by His Lordship on Thursday. But as soon as he was released he was pounced upon by the police and was rearrested under the Defence of India Rules. The rearrest is not technically contempt of court but is an unseemly circumvention of the Court's decision and harassment of the accused. Government had the choice at the outset of detaining the suspect without a trial or bringing him before a court of law. Having made the choice to prosecute him before a court, they ought to have respected its decision. The rearrest is almost an affront to the court, as much as to say to it: "You may think the accused to be innocent, but we know better." It may be legal under some Ordinance or may be made legal retrospectively by a fresh Ordinance, but it is a mockery of justice all the same and brings justice into contempt.

Late Lord Meston

Lord Meston, whose death was announced yesterday, was one of the most successful members of the Indian Civil Service. Joining the Service in 1885, he rose to be Lt-Governor of the United Provinces in 1912. He had the reputation of being an able administrator, an impressive speaker and a cultured scholar. In politics he was a Liberal and affected the Liberals' academic sympathy for India's political aspirations. But India is said to have often been the grave of many Britishers' political ambitions. Little was heard of Lord Meston after his retirement in 1919. He was President of the Liberal Party Organization at the time of his death.

More Promises

Sir Jogendra Singh has promised to give, before the end of 1944, a big programme of food and health and education. But he is discreet enough to promise only a programme and that too which only "aims at" many things. We should be more grateful for a few small things to be achieved immediately. The fourth all-India Food Conference is to meet next week. Let us hope it will fare better than the three past ones, that it will be something more than preparing the ground for the fifth.

A Bombay Scheme

Much humbler is the scheme of the Bombay Citizens' Health League. But it can do incalculable good if it is taken up earnestly both by the Bombay Municipality and the citizens. The object of the League is to arouse in the individual citizen a lively conscience in regard to his personal health and the health of his neighbours and the community generally. There would be two sections of the Health League: the first, a general body representative of the whole city which would look to matters of general administration; and the second, a network of local leagues, a hundred to each ward, composed of residents willing to work together for their common good and that of their neighbours. If a good beginning is made at once with two or three local leagues in different wards, they may be models for other parts of the city

ACID TEST Of COMMONWEALTH

Non-Europeans To Enjoy Same Privileges? Subbaroyan's Reply To Morrison

MADRAS, Oct. 8.

"Mr. Herbert Morrison's interview to American press correspondents caused me no little surprise. This is another example of how quickly Labour members of Parliament elevated to cabinet position imbibe the imperialism of their Tory diehard colleagues", says Dr. P. Subbaroyan in a statement to the press. He cites South Africa as an example of Britain's generosity where self-rule was given to a race different to theirs conveniently forgetting that such rule was given to a minority of Whites and the rights of the indigenous population were never even given a moment's thought.

As Sir Girja Shanker Bajpai has pointed out in a recent article which he wrote to the American Press, the real test of the Commonwealth will come with regard to the treatment of India. The acid test is the reply to the question whether the non-Europeans in the Commonwealth are to enjoy the same privileges and rights as the European. It is in this connection the treatment of India is going to be an acid test in the future ordering of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Morrison as is usual with his Tory colleagues harps back on the want of unity between the Congress and the League. He conveniently forgets that the authorities have done everything to prevent such a unity. I would ask Mr. Morrison if he is really sincere about Congress-League unity, to get his Government to allow contact with the imprisoned leaders in order to achieve such unity.—A. P.

Rice Supplies For Orissa Districts

CUTTACK, Oct. 8: The Government of Orissa have come to know, says a press note, that Ganjam and Balasore have become deficit districts in respect of rice. In order to give immediate relief to these districts, arrangements have been made to transport 20,000 maunds of rice from Sambalpur and one thousand maunds from Cuttack to Balasore district. Five hundreds maunds of rice, donated by the Maharaja of Sonepur have also been allotted for Balasore. Steps have been taken to send 90,000 maunds of rice from Koraput to Ganjam at the rate of two wagons daily.—A. P.

AMERICA PLANS FOR WORLD BANK

"Bold And Far-Sighted Move Which May Prevent Future War", Says "Financial News"

(By Reuter's City Correspondent)

LONDON, Oct 7.

The following is the United States Treasury's proposal for the 10,000 Million Dollar World Bank to finance reconstruction which Mr. Morgenthau submitted ("in strict secrecy"!) to the United States Senate Banking and Foreign Relations Committee on October 5 and which apparently has not yet been published in the United States. As revealed on September 11, the Bank would be called "The Bank for Reconstruction and Development of United and Associated Nations" to finance international long-term investment and short-term credits to the extent that these cannot be provided by private finance. The Bank would also create an "international essential raw material corporation" and an "international commodity stabilisation corporation" to assure equal access and adequate supply of raw materials at fair prices. The author of the Bank Plan is Mr. Harry White of the U.S. Treasury, but this plan appears vastly more important than Mr. White's plan for the International Currency Stabilisation Fund which the U.S. Treasury has already published. The Bank and currency plans together comprise the U.S. Treasury's tentative international post-war monetary scheme.

The Bank aims to provide capital for reconstructing member countries, supplying short-term credits for financing their foreign trade, assisting in replenishing their gold reserves and stabilising the prices and supplies of essential raw materials. Besides its capital of 10,000 million dollars in shares of one million dollars, each bank would be empowered to issue its own debentures and issue Notes to the extent of twice its gold holdings and to rediscount with any member Government or Central Bank, bills or other credit instruments from its portfolio (hence the bank's resources would be theoretically unlimited. This is undoubtedly the greatest financial project in the world's history). The shares will be 50 per cent paid initially and the remainder when called by the bank. Of the initial 50 per cent half shall be gold and half in subscription of the country's currency Minimum subscriptions will be determined by a formula based on, for example. national incomes. Eligible Governments must be: Firstly, A member of the United Nations Stabilisation Fund; secondly at peace with member countries. If two-thirds of the Bank's Board consider any member has committed military aggression against any other member, the aggressor shall forfeit membership (it is recalled that the Keynes currency plan suggested similar financial sanctions).

BANKS' OBJECTIVES

The original text (which is known to have been changed only in minor detail) stated that the bank's objectives were: Firstly, to provide capital for economic reconstruction of member countries: Secondly, to facilitate rapid smooth transition from wartime to peace time economy: Thirdly, to supply short-term capital for financing foreign trade where such capital is unavailable from private sources at reasonable rates; Fourthly, to help and strengthen monetary and credit structures of member countries by redistributing the world gold supply: Fifthly, to eliminate the danger of world-wide crises of financial origin and to reduce the likelihood of the intensity and duration of world-wide economic depressions; Sixthly, to help stabilise the price of essential raw materials; Seventhly, to raise productivity and the standard of living of member countries: Eighthly, to promote international economic co-operation and collaboration; Ninthly, to facilitate the solution of many post-war economic and political problems; Tenthly, to enhance the opportunity throughout the world for a healthy development of democratic institutions; Eleventhly, to finance relief of populations devastated by the war. Twelfthly, to promote equal access to scarce essential raw materials.

LOANS GUARANTEE

Whenever possible the bank should guarantee loans from private investors instead of itself lending provided: Firstly, the interest is not above four per cent, Secondly, it guarantees not above 60 per cent of the principal and 50 per cent of the interest; Thirdly the loan is not for repaying an old loan.

The bank could issue its own demand currency notes against hundred per cent Par value of obligation of or guaranteed by the participating Government provided the bank maintains 50 per cent gold reserve of Notes issued and no single Government shall back more than ten per cent of the maximum Note issued.

REDEEMING NOTES

The Notes should be redeemable in gold on demand only by member Governments. The gold equivalent of the international unit shall be fixed by the Stabilisation Fund. The bank shall not lend to any country whose Government is wholly or partially defaulting foreign loan unless. Firstly, the defaulted loan was made between the Allies in a common war or. Secondly, the defaulted Government has agreed to renew service on the basis worked out by the bank's special committee or, Thirdly 90 per cent of member votes approve the loan. Loans for strengthening the borrower's currency shall bear lower interest and may have longer terms than other loans. The bank shall impose no conditions regarding a particular country wherein the loan must be spent. The bank shall divide any loan into local currency and international units according to the portion estimated to be spent at home and abroad. The service of the loan shall be either in currency borrowed or in the new internal unit or gold. The bank can organise and finance the "International Essential Raw Material Developments Corporation" to increase world supply of essential raw materials and assure member countries an adequate supply at fair prices provide: Firstly three-fourths of member votes approve each a separate project and amount invested: Secondly the product is sold to member countries on equal terms

COMMODITY STABILISATION

The bank can organise and finance an "International Commodity Stabilisation Corporation" provided. Firstly, at least five Governments participate directly in the Corporation management and operation and subscribe a part of its capital; Secondly the Corporation will undertake to stabilise the price of any specific commodity only with the consent of bank; Thirdly the Corporation must give proper weight to the interest of world consumers as well as producers, The bank could buy or sell gold and perform other banking functions, but must deal only with the Government's Central banks and similar official bodies including the United Nation's Stabilisation Fund.

BOLD PROJECT

The "Financial News" (which originally published the U.S. Treasury's Currency Plan some days before the official publication), today publishes the full original text of this World Plan. The latter will be undoubtedly widely welcomed as a bold and far-sighted project holding tremendous opportunities for world peace and prosperity.

Famine Code Ration In Bengal Not Possible Now

Governor Calls Truce To Political Controversy And Appeals For People's Co-operation In Ending Food Crisis

(THROUGH A. P. & U. P.)

CALCUTTA, October 8.

Broadcasting from the Calcutta station of the All India Radio to-day His Excellency Sir Thomas Rutherford, Governor of Bengal, appealed for cessation of party controversy and practical co-operation of traders and shop-keepers in efforts to resolve the food crisis.

"Even on the merest subsistence level," said His Excellency, "Bengal consumes 24 million seers of rice a day or 6 1/2 lakh tons a month. It appears that the province was short of this absolute minimum requirement by not less than seven weeks' normal food and one month's if all had been on subsistence from the beginning of the year. On Government account alone 4,15,000 tons were brought into the Province between March and the end of the last month, a large part of which had gone to feed greater Calcutta and essential services. Greater Calcutta's population is nearly 1/15th of the population of the province and as an area it produces no food. Recently it has been possible to send to the districts a higher portion of the province's total imports."

His Excellency continuing said that there was a fair prospect that they would get the 2,50,000 tons of foodstuffs from outside, which were required to set Bengal right until 'aman' rice came in when, he added, "I hope our troubles will be at an end." But of this 2,50,000 tons only 70,000 tons would be rice so that many people would have to reconcile themselves to temporary change of diet.

FAMINE CODE CAN'T WORK

Demands have been made that the Famine Code procedure should be introduced in the worst affected districts.

The reasons for not doing so are simple.

First, the Government has never so far been able to get hold of sufficient stocks to guarantee the Famine Code ration.

Secondly, the present improvised system is more flexible, and.

Thirdly, test relief works are more or less impossible at this season of the year.

END POLITICAL CONTROVERSY

The Bengal Government has had to cope with an almost unmanageable problem, and has had to struggle against considerable elements of the population both in village and town, intent on defeating its efforts to distribute what food there was at reasonable prices. Government may have made mistakes, but the constant attacks in the Press and on the platform must have tended to sap public confidence and made its task more difficult. The cloud of suspicion and doubt roused by the political controversy did Bengal and Calcutta harm in adjoining Provinces and throughout India. I can say this from personal experience as Governor of Bihar.

For instance, it was common belief in Bihar that Calcutta had two months' stocks when it was claimed and truly it had only 3 days!

Whilst we are probably still in the severest phase of the calamity, the situation is not without its more hopeful aspects. Public sympathy in other parts of India and the Empire has been aroused and is taking practical shape. But they will expect us to get on with the job, and not to fritter away our resources of moral and material strength in faction and controversy. That is the reason why I have tried to set the facts before you to-night and why I have ventured to appeal for your whole-hearted co-operation in the urgent task of getting Bengal on her feet again.—

Bengal Relief: "Moments Musicaux"

Mrs. Bapsey Sabavala writes:—

Monday, the 18th October should be the day for all music lovers of Bombay. In the Sunderabai Hall at 6-30 p.m Bombay's best known artists will be all meeting when there will be a feast of good classical music. The Show is called "Moments Musicaux". We shall be hearing Mehli Mehta, that well-known and splendid violinist of India, Miss Shanti Seldon, the charming young pianist, George Lester, the well-known Cellist, Miss Julia Bennett and Miss Julia Wortman, two very excellent Sopranos, Bombay String Quatret with Joseph d' Lima and a Piano Quintet. We are also very much hoping to hear Fuoze Tata and the Bombay Male vocal Quartette led by L. A. Blickenstaff. There is a new comer also; an Operatic Soprano Madame Sineloboff, who has a good voice and who has sung a great deal in Italy. The full proceeds of the Show will be handed over to the Bengal Relief Fund, Bombay Committee.

The price of the tickets are Rs. 7, 5, 3, 2, (reserved) and Rs. 1 (unreserved) and can be had from Mrs. Bapsey Sabavala's Office, Industrial Assurance Building, Opposite Churchgate Station, Fort, Bombay, and at S. Rose and Co., Rampart Row.

As the accommodation is not very vast, all music lovers are requested to book early in order to avoid disappointment.

American Generals In Delhi

NEW DELHI, Oct. 8.

Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, Commanding General United States Forces in China, Burma and India, and Lt.-Gen. Brehon Somervell, Commanding General United States Army Service Forces, arrived in New Delhi this afternoon, says a Communique issued from Rear Echelon Headquarters United States Army Forces China-Burma-India. Somervell came from Washington via Australia and was met in Ceylon on October 7 by Maj.-Gen. R. A. Wheeler, Commanding General Service of Supply, China, Burma and India. Stillwell came from his Chungking headquarters and both are expected to have conferences with Lord Louis Mountbatten.—A. P.

Bill To Repeal Exclusion Acts

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.

The House Committee on Immigration voted eight against four at its executive session to report favourably on the bill to repeal the Chinese Exclusion Acts and allow Chinese immigration to United States on a quota basis.

The Swift action on the bill is understood to have been the result of an effort to get the measure of the Committee stage this week in honour of the anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic on Sunday. The House may act on the Bill next week.—Reuter.

CHURCHILL OVERRIDES HIS OWN GOVT.'S POLICY

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.

The Director of the United States Office of War Information Mr. Elmer Davis stated here tonight that Mr. Churchill in his House of Commons speech on September 21 disclosed information that had been withheld from the American and British public for security reasons and that in making the disclosures the Prime Minister overrode his own Government's policy. Mr. Davis said there was some justification for criticism in the United States over the withholding of war news which Mr. Churchill subsequently disclosed in his speech to the House of Commons on September 21. Mr. Davis told members of the New York Rotary Club that he referred specifically to Mr Churchill' announcement of a plan to land American Airborne troops at Rome and a new type of German bomb reported in use in the Mediterranean.—Reuter.

DISTRIBUTION OF INDIVIDUAL CARDS

(BASELESS PANIC)

There is no reason to panic if you do not receive your individual ration card when these cards are distributed in your ward.

Inspectors of the Ward Rationing Offices will attempt a second distribution in due course (this has already begun in 'A' Ward). If you are left out even in the second attempt, then your card will be kept at your Ward Rationing Office or other suitable centres and you will have to go there to receive it. The date when the cards will be so available and the arrangements made for their distribution will be announced at the proper time. A visit to the Ward Rationing Office prior to that date is futile.

REPORT CHANGE OF ADDRESS

Meanwhile, if you have changed your address and have not yet reported it to your Ward Rationing Office, please do so immediately whether distribution has started in your Ward or not. Give all particulars—the ration card No., the Code No., units on the card, the former address and the present address. Those who have changed addresses but failed to intimate hitherto will get their ration cards somewhat late as the cards prepared against their old addresses will have to be altered.

Steps will be taken to extend the validity of the present family ration cards until the distribution of the new cards is complete.

Those who have received their new ration cards should merely preserve them now. It will be announced later when they should go to their retailers to register them.

N. B.—This does not apply to ration permits issued to "establishments" which will come into force from the 25th week.

THOSE WHO CAN FREE INDIA ARE BEHIND PRISON BARS

Poet Vallathol Demands Release Of Congress Leaders: Narrates Heart-rending Tale Of Cholera And Hunger In Malabar

BOMBAY, Friday.

Delivering his presidential address in Malayalam, at the All-Malayalee Conference at the Sunderabai Hall to-day, Malabar's great literateur Vallathol said: "The object of my participation in this conference is to let you know the sufferings of Kerala. At Cheruthuruthy, I saw a woman of 25 lying either dead or half dead on the road side. Her torn clothes hardly covered her nakedness. It was murky light at dusk time that came to her aid. A tiny baby was lying near and searching in vain for milk. In Ernakulam more than 300 women —about 160 of them were mere girls of 10—were trudging for miles in search of food. No one knows how many of them died in that search. Fifty persons die every day in tiny Kerala which is paying a heavy toll due to famine and cholera."

Poet Vallathol appealed to the 50,000 Malayalee residents of Bombay to come to the aid of Keralaites.

Demanding the release of national leaders, Poet Vallathol said: "India cannot allow a land like Burma which has been feeding her to be in enemy hands. Although we have no weapons. Indian valour is still alive. Burma will be free, but the people who can make India free are behind iron bars. They must come out to lead India. Without their presence even food stuffs will not satisfy our hunger. Attack on Fascism and Nazism will not be considered violence even by Gandhiji. We therefore appeal to Government to release Gandhiji and other leaders and strengthen the country."

The conference passed ten resolutions the most important of which urged the release of national leaders.

On the question of Hindu-Muslim unity, the conference passed the following resolution:—

"This conference opines that Hindu-Muslim Unity is essential for solving the country-wide food crisis and all other problems and to have complete national unity.

The conference believes that it will be helpful for Hindu-Muslim unity and for Indian independence if Congressmen come forward to state clearly that an nationality in a free India will have the freedom and convenience to preserve its own language, culture, religion, etc., and that if the majority of the people of that nationality votes for a separate free State apart from the Central Government, then they should not be prevented by force from exercising the right.

At the same time this conference believes that the Muslim League must come forward to cooperate completely with Congressmen and others for the release of Congress leaders and for solving the food crisis, that are helpful for Hindu-Muslim unity and even for winning their own demands.

Therefore, this conference appeals to all to work tirelessly for Hindu-Muslim Unity on the above basis."

The conference passed resolutions demanding a University for Kerala, appointing an organising committee to form an all-Bombay Malayalee organisation and to form a Malayalee Mahila Samaj.

GIVE WIDE PUBLICITY TO MAHATMA'S ARTICLE ON "REAL WAR EFFORT"

Sir Purshottamdas On Need Of Speedy Action By Govt. To Improve Stamina Of Indians

SIMLA, Oct. 7.

Sir Purshottamdas Thakurdas, in a statement urges that wide publicity should be given to Mahatma Gandhi's article of January 25, 1942, on "Real War Effort", which Sir Purshottamdas says will do great good at the present juncture.

He says:—It must be some consolation to All-India that both England and America have at last learnt the bare truth about the Indian crisis regarding famine conditions prevailing in Bengal and threat of scarcity in some parts of the country. It is to be hoped that the correct policy will be adopted by the Government of India regarding procurement of foodgrains from abroad, and distribution of same in each area, particularly through experienced and reliable Indian channels—both official and trade.

I beg to suggest the following to H.E. the Viceroy and the Hon'ble Members of his Executive Council for their serious consideration. Government may very usefully get widely distributed all over India, in the various languages of each Province the article written by Mahatma Gandhi in the 'Harijan' of 25th January, 1942, under the caption "Real War Effort." I am convinced that this appeal from Mahatma if brought to the notice of the Indian public on a sufficiently wide scale all over India, will do more good than any preaching by any other association, society or individual. I sincerely hope that all newspapers throughout India will publish this appeal in full. If this appeal is wired out verbatim to England and America, it may to some extent remove the deliberate misunderstanding of his attitude regarding war effort. I sincerely hope that political prejudice against Mahatma Gandhi will not prevent favourable consideration of the above. He has proved by publishing this article as far back as January 1942, that he foresaw the storm which was gathering in the Indian economic situation.

Regarding the long-term policy in connection with food-grain supply, I would like to draw attention to the following from reports of two responsible Government officials which indicate, to my mind, the root-cause of the acuteness of the distress now prevailing.

HIGHEST MEDICAL TESTIMONY

In 1933 the Director-General of the Indian Medical Service, Maj.-Gen Sir John Megaw, estimated that 39 per cent of the Indian people were well-nourished, 41 per cent poorly nourished, and 20 per cent very poorly nourished. At least eighty million people of India were perpetually hungry He reported further that disease is widely disseminated throughout India and is increasing steadily and rather rapidly In Bengal, 78 per cent of the population were under-nourished." The peasantry of Bengal says an official report of the Director of Health are in large proportion taking to a dietary on which even rats could not live for more than a few weeks".

It is to be hoped that the Secretary of State for India will at least now insist on the Government of India taking whole-hearted and effective action regarding the long-term policy of the Government of India to prevent further deterioration in the stamina and calibre of the masses of India. A tremendous whole-hearted and well-laid out plan is called for and cannot be avoided eventually, and should be delayed no longer."

"DHINAMANI" EDITOR & STAFF RESIGN

Management's Refusal To Increase Salaries Leads To Breakdown

MADRAS (By Mail).

Mr. T. S. Chockalingam, Editor of "Dhinamani", the popular Tamil Daily in Madras has relinquished his editorship of the paper since October 2, 1943. The entire Editorial Staff (consisting of 6 sub-editors) has also resigned.

Differences arose between the Editorial Staff and the Proprietors over the question of an increase in salaries to meet the increased cost of living.

There were further differences between the Editors and the Proprietors as to how the demand was to be met.

Eight members of the Management Staff in the Advertisement Section have also resigned for a similar reason.

Mr. Chockalingam has been the Editor of "Dhinamani" since its inception in 1934. During these nine years he has been editing the paper with great distinction and phenomenal success.

Yarn Market

BOMBAY, October 6.

The Yarn Market has continued to remain dull during the week and there has been very little demand. The prices in the local market have remained steady for most of the week but there has been practically no demand. Reports from the upcountry markets also show that demand for cloth and yarn in these centres is very poor and prices have declined to some extent. It is expected however that demand in the upcountry markets will revive shortly. Reports from the Eastern markets show that demand there has been very negligible during the week on account of the famine conditions prevailing there and also due to Puja holidays. It is expected that prices in these centres will improve and demand will revive again after the Puja holidays and with the improvement in the present food crisis in Bengal. Reports from the Southern markets also show the same weak tendency for yarn and a slight decline in prices. The yarn market has thus been dull throughout the country during the week and demand has been practically at a stand-still. It is however, expected that as soon as the stocks purchased by the dealers are consumed and with the removal of various factors at present creating weak tendency in the market, demand will revive again and there will be an improvement in the prices. Demand for fine count yarn has been very poor but prices have been steady during the week. There has been very little demand for foreign yarns whose prices have also remained steady.

MONEY MARKET EASY

All-Round Advance In Share Bazar

(From Our Special Correspondent.)
Bombay, Oct. 7.

MONEY: Conditions in the short-term money market continued unchanged and easy. Call money was quoted at 1/4 per cent three months' money at 1/2 per cent and six months' at 3/4 per cent. Treasury Bill tenders were inclined to be heavy and the discount rate declined from Rs 0-13-6 to Rs 0-12-0 per cent per annum.

GOLD: A steady tone characterised the gold market throughout the week under review. Ready gold of .99 fineness opened at Rs. 77-7-0 and declined by stages to Rs. 75-14 on Monday. Thereafter prices were inclined to harden on account of improved offtake and advanced to Rs. 77-11 on Wednesday and closed at Rs. 78-1-0. Gold to be delivered within two days was quoted at a discount of about one anna under spot. The price of sovereigns also fluctuated in consonance with the variations in the gold price, and stood at Rs. 54 at the end after touching Rs. 53-4 mid-week. Stocks of the metal are estimated to be about 220,000 tolas and the average daily offtake is put at 15,000 tolas. The highest and lowest rates touched were: Rs. 78-1 and Rs. 75-14 for spot and Rs. 78 and Rs 75-13 for delivery within two days.

SILVER: The silver section of the bullion market followed the same trend as gold. Spot silver of .999 fineness opened at Rs. 123-12, receded to Rs. 121-13 on Monday but again firmed up to Rs. 124-6 on Wednesday on improved up-country demand and finally closed at Rs ..... The premium on refined silver of 999 fineness over two days' delivery widened from about 8 annas to a rupee towards the close Ready silver of .916 fineness was quoted at a discount Rs. 2 under spot. In London, both spot and forward silver remained pegged at 23-1/2d Floating stocks of the metal are estimated to be about 1,000, whereas the average daily offtake is believed to be 40 bars. The highest and lowest rates touched were: Rs. 124-6 and Rs. 121-13 for spot and Rs. 123-6 and Rs. 121-3 for delivery within two days.

SHARES: Trading on the basis of seven days' delivery came into operation from Monday and prices on the stock market opened firm. There was an advance all-round, particularly in the steel shares. Tata Deferreds advanced by well over 70 points to Rs. 1,987-8, closing a shade quieter at Rs. 1,962-8 on profit-taking. Ordinaries found strong support at Rs. 400, closing at about this level. In the mill section, interest was centred in Kohinoors and a large turnover was recorded in this scrip between Rs. 670 and Rs. 643. Centuries though steady were not nearly so active and the price ranged between Rs 950 and Rs. 915. Bombay Dyeings, on the other hand, were a shade easier, closing at Rs. 2,008-12 as compared with the week's highest of Rs. 2,052-8. Central Indias were steady around Rs 482 and New Greats around Rs. 450 Hydro-electric shares also met with good inquiry; Andhra Valleys were in demand at Rs. 1,905 and Tata Powers at Rs. 1,887-8. Business in Bombay Trams was reported at Rs. 161-8 and in Tata Hydros at Rs. 203. Bank shares were particularly firm with good inquiry in Bank of India at Rs. 194-8, whereas Central Banks gained about 8 points at Rs. 78. Reserve Banks were maintained around Rs. 124-4. In the miscellaneous group, price variations were comparatively narrow; Belapurs remained in the neighbourhood of Rs. 240 and Associated Cements around Rs. 220. Bombay Burmas were easier at Rs. 420 on profit-taking. Scindia Steams stood about 2 points higher at Rs. 37-12, whereas New Indias jumped up from Rs. 70-4 to Rs. 79-4 during the week.

CALCUTTA: The Calcutta share market remains closed from 1st to 14th October, 1943 for Pooja Holidays.

(ii) in the case of Canada, up to a proportion of the value of actual exports from that country in the year 1941;
(iii) in the case of the United Kingdom, up to a definite value.

2. Parts and accessories for each make of vehicle in use in this country will be obtained only from the country from which such makes were originally obtained.

3. Arrangements have already been made to obtain factory and other parts for General Motors and Ford vehicles and factory parts for all the United Kingdom makes through the existing main vehicle importers. A certain portion of the total quota for the import of parts from the United States is being offered to the firms who have imported vehicles of makes other than General Motors and Fords from the United States in the past. The balance quota available from the several countries is proposed to be utilised for the import of miscellaneous, electrical and replacement parts as follows:

(i) from the United States—parts, other than factory parts, for all makes except those of General Motors;
(ii) from Canada—parts not exceeding 70 per cent in value of those actually exported from Canada to India during 1941, the imports to be made only by the same firms to whom exports were made from Canada in 1941, the value referred to being the factory value;
(iii) from the United Kingdom —all parts, excluding factory parts and batteries.

The proposed imports under clauses (i), (ii) and (iii) above will be on a commercial basis and the importers will have to establisl the necessary credits with the exporters in the countries concerned. The Government of India will, however, assist with these imports in consultation with the foreign Governments concerned.

4. Applications together with information in the form below should be made NOT LATER THAN 30TH NOVEMBER, 1943 by firms desiring to import parts and accessories under the conditions indicated above

(a) if from the U.S.A. and|or Canada, to the Assistant Controller of Road Transport (Provision), Department of War Transport, New Delhi, and
(b) if from the U. K., to the Secretary, U. K. Motor Vehicle Spare Parts Advisory Panel, 71, Park Street, Calcutta.
